

OLD SLEUTH HAS NOTHING ON PROEBSTEL

A human bloodhound is in Honolulu, having arrived this morning from San Francisco in the Sierra. The human bloodhound, the terror of all the evildoers in the United States, is none other than M. R. Proebstel, special agent of the secret service, who was especially deputized by the sheriff of Pierce, Wash., to come here to get Iuchi Araki, Japanese, who is wanted by the authorities in Texas for alleged embezzlement.

Proebstel is usually gentle and polite. It is said, but when approached by newspaper men on any subject which may lead to the disclosure of his plans before they are perfected, he is noncommittal. He said this morning that newspaper men are all right so long as they do not know the plans of the detective beforehand, but added that if the writers knew anything before that time they would, as a rule, spoil the game. He was very reticent when talking to the representative of the Bulletin this morning at the Police Station.

All Proebstel has to do now is to get the criminal that the local police have nabbed and take him to the States, but he is too wise to be caught revealing his plans for custody of the prisoner. Probably there will not even be a brass band parading in front of the secret service man and his victim when they go to the wharf. Other detectives may reveal their plans, but not Proebstel.

Proebstel was met at the wharf by Chief of Detectives McDuffie and Sergeant Kellert and escorted to the police department headquarters to meet Sheriff Jarrett.

The human bloodhound came down to Honolulu armed with large official documents showing his position in the States. He showed a letter from T. Takahashi, president of the Oriental Trading Company of Seattle, authorizing him to come to Honolulu and return Araki to the States. Araki was taken off the Pacific Mail liner Persia by Chief McDuffie on her arrival here from San Francisco last Saturday.

Takahashi is also president of the Oriental Bank of Seattle, and it was through his instrumentality that Proebstel was deputized to come here and take the prisoner to the States.

Proebstel said this morning that Araki had admitted his guilt to him, and said further that he is willing to return to Texas in custody of the human bloodhound. Araki may not be drafted with severity by the authorities, on account of his expressed willingness to make good.

Proebstel has traveled throughout the States and Canada in his official capacity, and according to the records he admits he has made for himself, he is one of the cleverest of all the secret service men in the States.

Proebstel will leave with his prisoner in the Manchuria, due to arrive from the Orient next Monday afternoon or Tuesday morning. Chief of Detectives McDuffie, who has been granted a leave of absence, will also be a passenger in the Pacific Mail liner.

13 STUDENTS IN PEACE PRIZE CONTESTS

Thirteen essays have been sent by Hawaii students to the Chamber of Commerce peace committee, in competition for the handsome cash prizes offered by the American School Peace League and the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce.

Chairman W. A. Bowen of the Chamber of Commerce committee is highly gratified at the interest taken in the contest. Up to a week ago but two essays had reached him, but during the week they kept coming in and when the contest closed on May 15 thirteen were enlisted.

The essays have been put in the hands of the judges, Hon. W. L. Whitney, Rev. W. B. Gleason and Mrs. D. L. Withington, and the judges will render their decision on Friday, May 31. At that time the sealed envelopes containing the names of the competitors, now in the hands of the Chamber of Commerce committee, will be opened and the winner identified.

Chairman Bowen said this morning that ten of the competitors have used as their title the exact wording of the contest announcement, while three have chosen kindred subjects qualifying their essays within the meaning of the announcement.

The prizes which Hawaii students were given a chance to win are as follows:

- 1—Peaceable prize, $100, open to college and university students.
- 2—Black prize, $100, open to women university students.
- 3—Black prize, $200, open to women university students.
- 4—Local prize, $50, open to all scholars over 15 years of age.
- 5—Seabury prize, $75, open to seniors in Normal School.

WILL APPEAL ASSAULT CASE

An appeal of the Chung Nung case, in which the prisoner was convicted a few days ago of criminal assault on a little girl, will be filed tomorrow morning by Attorney Lorin Andrews, counsel for the defense, in case Judge Robinson denies the motion for a new trial and sentences the Chinaman to life imprisonment.

Chung Nung will be sentenced at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning. That he has a good case is evidenced by the fact that his employers, Sing Chong & Co., have consented to supply the financial assistance necessary for the appeal to the Supreme Court.

PIPE ORGAN AND ODYSSEY AT LIBERTY

Again the management of the new theater — the Liberty — sustains its claim of staging everything worth while, for tonight the world's most wonderful creation of picture building — Homer's Odyssey — will be thrown upon the Liberty screen. Moving-picture production has indeed gone far when the epic poems of old Greece can be projected upon the screen and displayed in all parts of the world. Even the Greek "profs" put their stamp of approval upon this latest production, so true is its portrayal of the warlike and love-like characteristics of the ancient Greece.

Homer's Odyssey, as students know, is the story of the return of Odysseus from the Siege of Troy to his island kingdom, Ithaca, where he is restored to his faithful wife, Penelope, and takes vengeance on the suitors who have sought her hand and wasted her husband's substance in revelry and debauchery during his absence. The story details how Odysseus was detained in the magic Isle of Calypso; the dispatch of his son to bring him home; the hero's homeward voyage and adventures; and finally, how, in the attire of a beggar, at the door of his home, he is unrecognized, and of his vengeance on the suitors.

That the moving picture manufacturers have produced a magnificent picture is the claim of presidents of colleges, clergy and other students who have seen the film. It was produced at a cost of $200,000 and two years were spent in making it, over 1000 actors being required for the cast of characters. So valuable is this film that the world's greatest detective, Wm. J. Burns, is employed to protect the rights of the makers.

This wonderful picture with its classical, sensational and instructive story will be exhibited tonight for the first time in Hawaii. Surpriser was manifest everywhere this morning when the announcement was made that this picture was to be seen in Honolulu, for many know the tremendous price that is asked for the use of the 3462 feet of film in Homer's Odyssey.

A surprising and, at the same time, pleasing innovation for a moving picture house or for any theater, for that matter, is the use of a $1500 pipe organ that has just been installed at the Liberty. A competent organist has been employed to play and while the film unfolds the great Grecian story appropriate music from the pipe organ will accompany the action of the picture.
